From the website that we have designed and written this website with reference from greyhound cafe, we have main navigation from the hamburger bar from the top left. And the principle of writing the website All of us have to return to the Home page for ease of use by putting them on the top right. In a special garden if customers want to reserve a table Customers have to log in first and enter information to reserve a table. And this is the main function of our website.

Actions our prototype can do
